REBOOT GIVES YOU PRACTICAL SOLUTIONS!

Developed over 15 years in classrooms throughout Australia, Reboot is a highly practical and proven neuroscience-based, trauma-transformative framework. Reboot's 21 core tools provide a simple common language, clear visuals and strategies that help young people own their choices and behaviour, forge resilience and build their capacity to engage and succeed in learning. Integrating neuroscience, positive psychology, mindfulness and behavioural science, Reboot tools empower all young people with the courage and skills to thrive in both learning and life.

Use whole-brain teaching and learning strategies to engage the disengaged, boost the learning and emotional intelligence of ALL students and create greater resilience as a community overall.

Reboot's 7-step whole-brain teaching and learning framework is based on Dr Bruce Perry's neuro-sequential model of therapeutics, and further augmented with applied neuroscience, positive psychology, mindfulness and the science of behavioural change. This one model addresses learning engagement from early learning to primary and secondary and also staff and student wellbeing. Reboot provides over 125 practical strategies, and over 700 support resources including student lessons, classroom templates, word walls, lanyard cards, stickers, workbooks etc. The Reboot language and tools can also be used in individual support, restorative justice and mediation, intensive group work and parenting/out-of-home care.

Reboot is designed to be localised to the unique circumstances of your community and provides a wrap-around support.
